

JOIN NEW LISTSERV FOR SCHOOL NOTICES ONLY!
IN EFFECT APRIL 01, 2011

Hi folks,

It has been brought to my attention that important school notices are getting buried amongst the various helpful notices, suggestions, job postings, activity recommendations, etc., that are coming through daily on our current listserv.

While this is exactly the point of our community listserv, it has also been a vital means for our school staff to reach a large number of our families quickly and urgently.

Soooooo...to make school related information more timely and visible to our families, we have a brand new listserv set up for important SCHOOL EVENTS INFORMATION AND URGENT NOTIFICATIONS at :

http://groups.yahoo.com/group/CRCS_NOTICES

Please join this group immediately so that you do not miss out on any further notifications from school staff about upcoming and immediate events. I strongly suggest you set up your account to receive emails from this particular listserv as it is received and not the daily digest format which would then nullify the whole point.

It is our hope that our new website currently in the works will perform this notification duty in the future as well as accommodate the classifieds type of postings.

Thanks everyone and I look forward to seeing you in school during family conferences tomorrow and Friday!

With regards,

Sandy CC Co-chair

NOTE: This listserv will go live April 1st after which time school related notices will ONLY be posted on the above listserv, so join NOW!
